

Discord

- Is a Voice over IP (VoIP) service that provides text, image, video, and audio communication, as well as screen sharing between users in a chat channel.
- Available through a web browser, mobile device, or through a desktop application.
- Allows private messages to a single person or group messages with multiple people.
- Integration with applications like Twitch, Skype, Steam, and Spotify.
- Free access with paid features for custom emojis, uploaded file size increases, games, etc.
- 5,000 participant limit on a voice call
- 9 participant limit on a video call
- 250,000 – 500,000 person limit on a server

How to join a server and interact with others

1. Create an account.
2. Open up application and sign in.
3. Access the settings on the bottom-left of the screen to customize your experience. [red]
4. Click on “Add Friend” on the top-right of the screen to add a friend by searching up their Discord tag. [red]

5. A link will be provided when a friend invites you to a server. Join the server with the link.

6. Once in the server, select a channel to join it. You may have to double click.
7. Once in the channel, you can immediately start conversing with other users!
8. You can click on the phone icon to initiate a phone call or the camera icon to start a video call with all participants. [\[red prev. page\]](#)
  - a. If a call is already active, click "Join call" to enter the call.
9. You can now add friends by right-clicking on the name of a user in your channel!

How to mute a channel for yourself or to delete a channel for the entire server

1. You must be the server administrator to delete a channel
2. Select the server that hosts the channel
3. Hover your mouse over the name of the channel
4. Click the settings button
5. Select:
  - a. The button beside "Mute [Channel Name]"
  - b. The option "Delete Channel" and confirm.

