7. DISCUSSION ITEMS
7.1 Governance Committee Annual Plan
SUBMITTED BY: VP Internal and Organizational Development “Judit Nagy”
- VPIOD proposed that the Governance Committee collectively work on the annual plan.
- VPIOD mentioned that policy review is a high priority, some policies are very behind and have not been updated in months. She also mentioned that there are many upcoming amendments will need to go through the Governance Committee.
• A collaborative Google Docs will be sent to the committee in the upcoming days where everyone can start compiling what they wish work on.

7.2 IEC-1 Composition Change: Overview
SUBMITTED BY: VP Internal and Organizational Development “Judit Nagy”
ATTACHMENT: BN IEC-1 Change
• The Governance Committee has been advised to revise and increase the IEC composition as there are currently not enough people in the IEC Commission to handle the workload.
• Policy on the composition established that there is one chief and four commissioners. The bylaws restrict the composition to one chief but an increase of commissioners is allowed. The committee plans to amend the policy to match the bylaw and hire more than four commissioners.
• Mathematics Councillor mentioned amending the appendix as well to match policy changes.
• The committee discussed making changes to the bylaw to give future boards more leniency in hiring more than one chief.

7.3 Policy Reconciliation: Overview and Priorities
SUBMITTED BY: VP Internal and Organizational Development “Judit Nagy”
• VPIOD shared a spreadsheet of all the policies the committee needs to review. She mentioned that many of them are out of date and do not match the current governance model. There are a few policies missing as well.
• VPIOD commented that policy review is currently the top priority as it is hard to work on other duties without first making policy changes. She suggested that the committee work on elections and referenda first before reviewing council policies and operations.
7.4 Elections and Referenda Policy Updates

SUBMITTED BY: VP Internal and Organizational Development “Judit Nagy”

ATTACHMENT: Campaign Policies

- VPIOD mentioned that election and referenda policies need to be updated and clarified. She mentioned that some bylaws need to be amended before making policy changes.
- Mathematics Councillor suggested reviewing CP 3-15. VPIOD added on to that by suggesting that they define what active and passive campaigning is.
- The committee discussed possible amendments such as:
  - What constitutes as campaigning during voting period.
  - Campaign literature vs. campaign material.
  - Policies regarding slates

7.5 NP-3 2022 vs. 2019

SUBMITTED BY: VP Internal and Organizational Development “Judit Nagy”

ATTACHMENT: Election and Referenda 2019, Election and Referenda 2022

- VPIOD mentioned that the Election and Referenda between 2019 and 2022 are very different. A few important sections have been removed from the recent referenda.
- “Members may not hold office as a voting member on the Executive Committee and a Student Union or Constituency Group.”
  - The wording needs to be fixed and some pretext should be added to make the language accessible. It also doesn’t explain the consequences of holding both seats.

CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY
BRIEFING NOTE: IEC COMPOSITION – CHANGE TO IEC-1

ISSUE

Due to the high density of candidates running for SFSS Executive positions, the Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) will need additional support in ensuring that electoral regulations outlined in our policies, specifically the Elections and Referenda Policy, are met. Upon the recommendation of the SFSS Policy, Research, and Community Affairs Coordinator (PRCA), the composition of the IEC should be amended to include an additional IEC chief and two more commissioners. IEC composition is described in IEC-1 in Elections and Referenda.

BACKGROUND

During the 2022 Executive Elections, the following key complaints were made in regards to how the IEC operated:

1. Unclear boundaries on what work falls under Staff, and what falls under IEC.
2. Students struggled to keep up with their duties as IEC and their course work, as some were currently enrolled students.
3. Massive issue with maltreatment of IEC and Staff by candidates over email, as well as over online platforms.

For the 2022 Executive elections, approximately 9% of eligible voters casted a ballot, compared to 2021, whereby only 4% of the undergraduate student body voted. Furthermore, in the 2022 elections, there were twenty-one (21) candidates (dropped to 18 by the time elections results came in), compared to 2021, when only fourteen (14) candidates ran. Based on this trend, the number of IEC commissioners is not sufficient with the demand multiple candidates pose.

CURRENT STATUS

As of right now, the SFSS Election and Referenda Policy, IEC-1, outlines that the composition of the IEC is: one (1) chief commissioner, and four (4) commissioners. The PRCA Coordinator’s report suggests an increase to two (2) chief commissioners and six (6) commissioners.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS

There has been a doubled turnout this Executive Committee election compared to last year’s. This growth is expected to be maintained or increased for next year.
The IEC plays a crucial role in approving candidates and content used during elections. Candidates often need quick responses and actions, which is difficult to achieve when there is a limited number of IEC staff available and numerous candidates.

Certain number of IEC commissioners are regular students, and working more than what was initially set out may negatively impact their academic standing.

The IEC team reported massive burnout after the election season. To remedy the burnout from the workload, the PRCA is recommending increasing the number of IEC chiefs and commissioners moving forward to spread out the workload, and make it more manageable.

Recommendation

The main recommendation is to increase IEC chief commissioners numbers from one (1) to two (2) chiefs, and increase commissioners from four (4) to six (6). To achieve that goal, a change in policy IEC-1 is necessary to amend the commission composition.

Motion

Whereas the Elections and Referenda Policy governs how the SFSS hold elections for Executive Officers;

Whereas IEC-1 highlights the composition of the commission as being one (1) chief commissioner, and four (4) commissioners;

Whereas the report on the SFSS Executive Officer Elections (2022) by the SFSS Policy, Research, and Community Affairs Coordinator (PRCA) highlights a recommendation to hire more IEC staff – from one (1) chief commissioner to two (2), and commissioners from four (4) to six (6);

Whereas VP Finances and Services has been tasked to allocate the budget for the an increase in IEC spending;

Be it resolved to amend IEC-1 standard composition to increase to two (2) chief commissioners and six (6) commissioners.

Next Steps

Provided that the policy change is approved to go ahead, the SFSS would begin interviews to hire the next IEC.

   Revised definition Campaign Materials’ (this includes but is not limited to all social media, emails, and online material) means anything encouraging the election of a candidate or group of candidates.
KEY NOTES

- Should campaigning be allowed or not during voting period

If yes - social media consideration.

I suggest No, since our policies says that as I have shared in my comments.

The main point of confusion is that the bylaws says remove all printed campaign materials - we could amend that to include social media, web based, as defined by our policies.

What about sharing voting period and links?

Candidates can do this during the voting period, one way is adding an additional requirement in their campaign materials which must be approved by the IEC.

2013 IEC election report pg 7.

The IEC requires that ALL campaign material including online material such as blogs, websites and social media must be removed immediately. Failure to comply will result in disqualification.

Sarah Veness: Found online campaign material still up during voting period. After an infraction notice was sent to Ms. Veness, all campaign materials were removed immediately and the IEC decided that it was good enough effort on her part to justify not receiving a penalty.

4. Brock Balfour: Found online campaign material still up during voting period. After an infraction notice was sent to Mr. Balfour, all campaign materials were removed immediately and the IEC decided that it was good enough effort on his part to justify not receiving a penalty.
